FOR CHANGE

OUR STORIES. OUR VOICES. OUR FUTURE.

WHY THIS MOMENT MATTERS

Film Media Literacy Is the New Civic Literacy

Young people now receive more information from digital media than from any other source, yet few are taught how stories influence identity, shape public opinion, and affect civic participation.

Artificial intelligence, social media, and immersive technologies are transforming how people learn, communicate, and understand the world.

Preparing young people for this future requires more than technical skills.
It requires critical thinking.
Creative confidence.
Ethical leadership.
Narrative power.

Hope becomes action when people have the tools to investigate, create, and share their own stories.

OUR STORIES. OUR VOICES. OUR FUTURE.
